January Recap

The students were excited to embark on a global architectural adventure! Using Chromebooks and a wealth of library books as their guides. They enthusiastically designed and built castles from all corners of the world, from the rugged landscapes of Ireland to the sun-drenched deserts of the Middle East. They delved into the unique architectural styles of each region. The excitement was palpable as they prepared to showcase their incredible creations in their annual architectural tour, sharing their passion for design and history with everyone.

February News

From the smallest insect to the largest whale, this month we will delve into the incredible variety of animal life on Earth and the ways in which researchers record and study them. For centuries, tales of fantastical beasts like the giant squid and the okapi circulated, dismissed as mere legends. Yet, these "mythical" creatures were eventually discovered, proving that sometimes, the line between folklore and zoology is blurred. While we have identified roughly 1.2 million species, scientists estimate that millions more, perhaps as many as 8.7 million, remain undiscovered, particularly in the deep oceans and remote rainforests. It will be an exciting month to see what we discover.
